Yesterday at high noon Miss Ida Nobie ecame the bride of Lewis Cecil Robin-on, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's father, W. P. Noble. Only about thirty of the most intimate friends of the young people attended the ceremony, which was performed by Father Kelly of the Roman Catholic church. At the appointed hour the bridal party descended the stairs to the strains of "The Wedding March" from "Lohengrin." First came the little flower girl, Margaret Noble, dressed in a dainty gown of white, with pink ribbons, and carrying a basket of pink carnations. Next came the matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Gould Smith; then the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Mayme Noble, and lastly the bride, leaning on the arm of her father. Both the matron of honor and the maid of honor wore beautifully embroidered gowins of chiffon made over taffeth, and carried immense bouquets of pinks. The bride wore a lovely gown of Venetian lace, made entraine over taffeth and chiffon. A long veil fell to the hem of her gown, and she carried a beautiful bouquet of lilled of the valley. Awaiting them in the drawing-room, where the coremony was performed, were Father Kiely, the groon and his best man, Will Hall. The ceremony was performed beneath a beautiful canopy of asparagus plumosa, with a background of palms and tall vases of calla lilles on either side. Calla lilles and white carnations formed the entire decoration of the drawing-room. In the library a stringed orchestra played the "Spring Song," and as the last words were spoken, the wedding march by Mendelssohn. Then the friends of the happy young couple pressed forward to extend congratulations and good wishes Following the ceremony refreshments were served in the dining-room, which was very prettily decorated with American Beauties, white carnations and smilax, the candles and electroliers being shaded in green. Palms were used entirely in the decoration of the hall, and palms and pink carnations in the living-room. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left on the afternoon train for a month's visit in the East. They will return and be at home, after March 15th, at 655 Second street. garet Mayme Noble, and lastly the bride, eaning on the arm of her father. Both Delightful indeed was the third in the series of Assemblies, given last evening at Christensen's. A larger number of subscribers than usual were there, and the hours were most enjoyably passed by all Palms were generously used in the decoration of the large hall and the reception-rooms to the south, and a most attractive cosy-corner was arranged to the northwest. Supper was served in the Commercial club dining-room, each of the fifteen tables being decorated with a single crystal candlestick, surrounded by a wreath of smilax tied with a bow of red ribbon The candles and shades were in the same bright color and the effect of the whole was most pleasing. was most pleasing

A charmingly appointed dinner preceding the Assembly was that given by Mr. Schrall at the Commercial club. Covers were laid for ten at a round table in the private dining-room. In the center of the table was a tall cutglass vase of American Beauties, the vase rising from a mound of plumosa. After the dinner each of the ladles was presented with a hair-dozen of the Beauties as a souvenir. Covers were laid for Gov. and Mrs. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Eraest Bamberger, Mrs. Belvin of San Francisco, Miss Judge, Mr. Critchlow and Mr. Schramm. . . .

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Glosz entertained at a very beautiful dinner last evening in honor of their daughter, Mrs. Rosemary Glosz-Whitney, who leaves a week from tomorrow for New York. The colors of red, white and green were carried out in all the decorations and refreshments, in the center of the round table was a wroughtfron candelabrum, with red, white and green shades. On either side were vases of red and white carnations with plumosa surrounding each. A hand-some cloth of clumy lace over red satin covered the table, with sprays of plumosa trailing over the cloth. A small photograph of the guest of honor adorned the place-cards. The guests at the dinner were Dr. and Mrs. Niles. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bauer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Boyd, Miss Bauer.

MEN WHO SAVED WEST

Why Veterans of Indian Wars Should Be Pensioned.

PLEA OF UTAH'S SENATOR

Bill Arguad Befere the Senate House. Committee.

Senator Kearns Sets Forth That the Hardy Pioneers Who Fought the Redmen Saved the West.

[TRIBUNE SPECIAL.]

Washington, Feb. 9.-Senator Kearns appeared before the Senate Committee on Penzions yesterday and argued in behalf of his bill to pension Black Hawk Indian war veterans in Utah. The Senator said: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee: I appear before you this morning in the interest of Senate bill 2642, morning in the interest of Senate bill 3842, which has for its object the pensioning of veterans of the Indian wars of Utah, for which there is no provision of law. This bill was presented to me as a substitute for Senate bill 1375, which, after consideration, was found not to fully cover the cases sought to be reached. There are on the statute books at the present time laws providing pensions for veterans of Indian wars under what is known as the act of June 27, 1962. This law, however, is inadequate. It requires as a condition precedent to consideration the establishment of a record of service, either from the records of the War department or from the rolls of the auditor's office in the treasury.

the treasury.
"A numbers of the veterans of Utah

"A numbers of the veterans of Utah have availed themselves of the privileges of this act and are drawing pensions, but there is still a greater number who have been unable to comply with the requirements of this law—men just as deserving and who are denied the benefits which the United States generously gives to those who fought for its support.
"Every schoolboy familiar with the history of his country knows of the early struggles of the pioneers against the Indians. The wresting and civilizing of our great Western country forms one of the most thrilling chapters in the history of the nation. Those hardy pioneers who went into Utah had to fight for their homes, and these are the ones the Government is asked to assist in their old age.

RAIDS OF DAILY OCCURRENCE.

ernment is asked to assist in their old age.

RAIDS OF DAILY OCCURRENCE.

"From 1856 until 1863 Indian outbreaks were of almost daily occurrence. The army at that time was of insufficient strength to cope successfully with the situation, and the records of the War department are replete with evidence that the Government was called upon a great many times to help suppress these Indian outbreaks. Nor is evidence wanting that the Government directed that the State call upon its militia for the purpose, as the scene of the outbreak was too far removed from the military power of the United States.

"So it was gentlemen, that these ploneers banded together and joined the State militia, giving their time and providing their own accourtements. The rosters of these militia companies are still extant and contain the names of those who made war upon the red man until finally he was driven farther west and the civilization of the Territory became a possibility.

"These men have never been compensated either for the loss incurred in repelling the Indians, nor for the arms they contributed and the time given. Time has not dealt gently with them. Many have passed the eightisth milestone and some are in dire need of Federal aid. I doubt if the beneficence of the United States could be better bestowed than by giving these men Federal recognition in the shape of a service pension at least. They cannot show that they were mustered into the service of the United States, but they can show by the exhibits they present to you, ample proof that they rendered the service for which they seek recognition and are entitled to it by everything that stands for justice.

"The bill provides for the extension of stands for justice.

PROVISIONS OF BILL.

"The bill provides for the extension of the provisions, limitations and benefits of the act of July 27, 1882, as amended by the act of June 27, 1992, to include Indian wars of the United States which occurred in the Territory of Utah down to and including the year 1897. I have asked for this extension to 1867 in order to include the survivors of the Black Hawk war which raged in Utah during the years 1895 and 1897. A brief account of this war is included in the exhibits which I have handed you for consideration in connection with the bill. The bill provides that proof of service shall be by affidavit of survivors or surviving widows of such soldiers, corroborated and attested by two reputable witnesses, said evidence to be taken as full and satisfactory proof of service when no record of service is included in the files of the War or Treasury departments. With such affidavits, corroborated by the muster-rolls, it occurs to me the proof is ample to establish the service rendered.

"Section 2 provides for the pensioning of those included under the terms of this bill from the date of the passage of the amended act, which was June 27, 1992. This provision, it seems to me, is merely carrying out the intent of Congress, which was, I believe, to pension all the veterans of the Indian wars on that date.

"Now, gentlemen, in submitting this bill to your carnest emisideration I ask that you bear in mind the difficulties under which these men fought and the grand results they achieved. They are worthy applicants indeed, empire-builders, if you please, and the benefits which the bill carries will only be for a little while, I ask your earnest and favorable consideration, and cali your attention in conclusion to the exhibits that are filed herewith."
